

Comisiwn Coedwigaeth
Forestry Commission

A forwarder mounted sprayer for the uplands

Existing forestry spraying equipment has been developed and forwarder mounted, extending its use to the uplands.

On board computers maintain correct application rates in relation to vehicle speed measured by radar.

A herbicide injection system meters chemical concentrate into the sprayer, application rate can be changed at the touch of a button and the disposal of excess mixed chemical is avoided.

This machine offers high outputs, safe working condition, and accurate herbicide application.