To Employers and Occupiers.

- Note : Every employer is required to take reasonable steps to investigate the circumstances of every accident recorded herein and, if there appears to him to be any discrepancy between the circumstances found by him and the entry made, he is required to record the circumstances so found.

Advice to Injured Persons.

There are two rules to be observed :—

- When seeing the doctor, obtain a certificate if the accident prevents you from working. This certificate can be used for making your claim. Parts II and III on the certificate should be completed. Where you are able to do so, you should do this yourself ; where you cannot, someone (a member of the family, for example) can complete it for you.

A delay of twenty-one days or more in sending the certificate may lead to loss of benefit unless good cause for the delay can be shown. Any delay may cause difficulty in showing that an industrial accident has been sustained.
